THE ACADEMY AND ITS OBJECTIVES

The Academy of the Social Sciences in Australia (prior to July 1971 the Social Science Research Council of Australia) is a corporate body of social scientists. Its functions are:

(i) to encourage the advancement of the social sciences in Australia;
(ii) to act as a co-ordinating group for the promotion of research and teaching in the social sciences;
(iii) to foster research and to subsidise the publication of studies in the social sciences;
(iv) to encourage and assist in the formation of other national associations or institutions for the promotion of the social sciences or any branch of them;
(v) to act as the Australian national member of international organizations connected with social sciences; and
(vi) to act as a consultant and adviser in regard to social sciences.

For the origins and development of the Academy, see the 1975-76 (or an earlier) Annual Report, and K.S. Cunningham: The Social Science Research Council of Australia 1942-1952, SSRC, Canberra, 1967.

Each member, on election to the Academy, takes the title of Fellow. As at 30 June 1984 there were 193 Fellows of the Academy. New Fellows are elected by postal ballot on the recommendation of the Membership Committee. The Academy’s functions are discharged by an Annual General Meeting and the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee consists of the President, the Treasurer and seven other members all elected at the Annual General Meeting.

Since 1953 the Australian Government has provided an annual grant to assist the Academy to meet administrative and travel costs. In 1983-84 the grant was $79,000.

Four Panels, each representing related groups of disciplines as described on page 7 above, serve the Academy with advice relating to membership matters, the selection of new research topics and general policy issues. Panel activities are supplemented by assemblies of Fellows on a State basis, with meetings held from time to time in the various capital cities. These Branch meetings provide useful and relatively inexpensive extensions to Panel activities, and are most fruitful when they are called to discuss issues of current significance to particular States. During the year, Branches assisted the Executive with a range of matters: the organization of symposia; a programme for sesquicentenary activities in Victoria and South Australia; and the preparation of material for the Newsletter.
The Academy has put much emphasis upon its Major Research Projects, which are described in the next section of this Report. They have stimulated new research, not merely among the Fellows of the Academy, but widely throughout universities and research institutes in Australia. They have also helped to clarify issues of significance in the formulation of government policies and have at times involved close collaboration with government officials and departments at both Federal and State levels. This interaction has been essential to the progress of these Projects, particularly in the cases of the Projects on the Aborigines in Australian Society and Immigrants in Australia.

Major Projects are costly enterprises and the economic scene of 1983-84 was unfortunately not propitious for raising funds for new projects which are now at the planning stage: Australia and the South-West Pacific and Health and Behaviour.

The Academy also pursues a number of shorter-term enterprises which aim to study topics assessed to be of major significance, both academically and nationally. These form the basis of the Academy's programme of seminars and workshops, some of which have been wholly ASSA's responsibility and others joint efforts with other Academies and with government departments. These have been playing an increasingly important role over the past three or four years.

Research is not, however, the only function of the Academy: it also has a role to play as a consultant and adviser and in promoting and encouraging 'the advancement of the social sciences' both in Australia and abroad. In these wider roles the Academy appreciates its collaboration with the Academies of Science, the Technological Sciences and the Humanities through the deliberations of the Consultative Committee of the Australian Academies and in joint seminars and workshops. It also seeks a more effective liaison with government departments and research organizations who are prime users of social science concepts, data and methodologies.

The Academy sustains its international activities through its affiliations with the Association of Asian Social Science Research Councils (AASSREC) and the International Federation of Social Science Organisations (IFSSO). In 1980 a new venture of considerable significance was initiated: an interchange scheme between the Australian Academies of the Social Sciences and the Humanities, acting jointly, and the Chinese Academy of the Social Sciences (see page 12 below). The Academy expresses its appreciation of the Australian Government's continued support for this scheme.
ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

1. RESEARCH

Four Major Projects have been completed by the Academy and its predecessor, the Social Science Research Council of Australia: Women in Australia, Taxation in Australia, Aborigines in Australian Society and Immigrants in Australia.

The results of each of the first two projects were produced as a single volume. The Aborigines Project was a much larger and longer-term enterprise, which generated twelve research monographs and three major synoptic volumes by the Project's Director, Dr Charles Rowley. This series covers a wide range of topics including the history of Aborigines since European settlement in Australia, their settlement patterns in both remote and urban areas, their economic status, their health and their morbidity.

In the Immigration Project, ten monographs have been published. These include studies of selected ethnic groups, immigrant communities, patterns of income and expenditure, political attitudes and behaviour, and the impacts of professional and highly skilled immigrants in Australian society.

Several further studies were essentially 'seeded' from the main Immigration Project. One such study was the series Studies in the Education of Migrant Children, which was financially supported by the Commonwealth Department of Education, with the Academy providing assistance for the final editing and preparation of the manuscripts for publication. Under the title The Educational Experience of Sydney High School Children, the first Report was produced in 1979, the second in 1981, and the third in 1983.

During 1983-84 two new Projects were pressed forward. The first concerned the preparation of a major conference to be held in September 1985 in association with the Research School of Pacific Studies, Australian National University on the topic of Australia and the South-West Pacific. The other is a study of Health and Behaviour, to be initiated by a symposium to be held probably in May 1985. The Academy will again be seeking public support to help meet the cost of these new enterprises.

The Academy also continued its sponsorship of ‘Trend Reports’. The three-volume Surveys of Australian Economics was completed. The manuscript of the second ‘Trend Report’, Survey of Australian Political Science, was completed under the guidance of an Editorial Committee with Professor D. Aitkin as Chairman, and went to press. The Report will be one volume covering political history and biography, political institutions, political sociology, public administration, radical political science, international relations, political theory and foreign politics. Work proceeded on other ‘Trend Reports’: in Geography to be edited by Professors H. Brookfield and J. Mabbutt; in Psychology (Professor N.T. Feather); in Education (Dr J.P. Keeves); and in Law (Professors H.A.J. Ford and Enid Campbell). Other studies are being planned. for Sociology and Demography. The whole series is being published by George Allen and Unwin Australia Pty Ltd.

2. SYMPOSIA AND CONFERENCES

The Academy continued its review and discussion of topics which were felt to be of national interest. The Annual Symposium held at the Annual General Meeting in November 1983 was on the topic Women and the Social Sciences: New Modes of Thought. Papers presented were:

— Women and the Concept of Work: Issues of Theory, Measurement and Social Policy (Ms Bettina Cass)
— Individual Equity and Social Policy (Dr Meredith Edwards)
— Seeing Women in the Landscape: Alternative Views of the World Around Us (Professor Fay Gale)
— Women in History (Ms Patricia Grimshaw)
— In Pursuit of Equity: Woman and Law in Public and Private (Dr Jocelyn Scutt)
— The Gender of Bureaucracy: Reflections on Feminism and the State (Dr Hester Eisenstein)

The Proceedings, which are also being published by George Allen and Unwin Australia Pty Ltd, are expected to be available by the end of 1984.

During the year the Project on Liquid Fuels in Australia was completed. The first phase was the publication in 1982 of the book by Dr John Black, ed: Liquid Fuels in Australia, A Social Science Perspective, Pergamon Press, Sydney, based on papers presented at a joint seminar of the four Academies — the ASSA, the Australian Academy of the Humanities, the Australian Academy of the Technological Sciences and the Australian Academy of Science — in April 1981. The final phase was a Report by Dr R.J. Stuart, entitled Liquid Fuels, Transport and Urban Structure: A Social Science Research Review, published by the Academy in June 1984. This Report completes a project that had been made possible by grants of $51,000 from the National Energy Research, Development and Demonstration Council. The Academy gratefully acknowledges this support.

3. ANNUAL ACADEMY SYMPOSIUM

For an account of the Symposium in November 1983 on Women and the Social Sciences: New Modes of Thought, see Item 2 above.

In November 1983 the Annual General Meeting agreed that the Annual Symposium for November 1984 should discuss the topic Social Democratic Governments in Action: Aspiration and Achievement.
4. ANNUAL LECTURE

The Eleventh Annual Lecture of the Academy was given in the Coombs Lecture Theatre, Australian National University on Tuesday, 8 November 1983 by Professor J. Goodnow, Professor of Psychology at Macquarie University. The Lecture entitled Women and Changes in Topics, Methods and Models will be published as an integral part of the Proceedings of the 1983 Academy Symposium.

The Academy Lecturer chosen for 1984 is Mr Hugh Stretton, Reader in History at the University of Adelaide. His topic, Tasks for Social Democratic Intellectuals, has been chosen to complement the 1984 Symposium referred to above.

5. INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES

The Academy continued its affiliation with the Association of Asian Social Science Research Councils (AASSREC) and the International Federation of Social Science Organizations (IFSSO). In 1983-84 the third round of the Exchange Scheme between the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences and the Academies of the Humanities and of the Social Sciences in Australia was completed, and the scholars for the fourth round were selected.

(a) Chinese-Australian Exchange Scheme

Seven Australian scholars were chosen to visit China in 1984. These were:
- Dr D. Bradley, Lecturer in Linguistics, La Trobe University;
- Dr P. Bellwood, Senior Lecturer in Prehistory, Australian National University;
- Dr J. Fincher, Fellow, Department of Far Eastern History, Australian National University;
- Dr M. Underdown, Electorate Officer, Parliament of Victoria;
- Dr A.S. Watson, Senior Lecturer in Agricultural Economics, University of Melbourne;
- Professor J.S. Western, Professor of Sociology, University of Queensland;
- Dr C.F. Yong, Senior Lecturer in History, Flinders University of South Australia.

In September 1983 the Australian Academies of the Social Sciences and of the Humanities received a delegation of senior officials of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences consisting of:
- Mr Liu Guo-Guang, Vice-President of CASS and leader of the delegation;
- Mr Wu Jiemin, Deputy Secretary-General of CASS;
- Mr Wang Huanyu, Deputy Director of the Bureau of Scientific Research, CASS;
Mr Lin Qing, Head of the Section for America and Oceania, Bureau of Foreign Affairs, CASS.
Mme Huang Lie, interpreter.

The delegation held discussions with the Commonwealth Department of Education, the Tertiary Education Commission and visited universities in Brisbane, Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide.

In addition the Australian Academies received the following Chinese scholars:

Mr Chen Ligui, Assistant Research Fellow, CASS Institute for South Asia;
Mr Qin Qiming, Assistant Research Fellow in CASS Agricultural Economics; and Mr Song Guoqing, Assistant Research Fellow in CASS Agricultural Economics.
These scholars were accompanied by an interpreter, Mr Lin Di.

(b) AASSREC

As President of AASSREC 1981-83, the Academy was responsible for the Fifth Biennial Conference of this organization, held in Sydney, December 4-10, 1983. The Academy greatly appreciates the substantial financial support for this Conference from the Australian National Commission for Unesco and the Australian Development Assistance Bureau, as well as substantial external support from Unesco (Paris) and the United Nations University (Tokyo). Details of these donations are given below in the financial statements.

The Conference, which met at the University of Sydney, was attended by 20 delegates from 10 member countries, together with members of the Executive Council of AASSREC and representatives of a number of international organizations sponsoring social sciences research and studies in the South-East Asian and Pacific region.

The main themes discussed were:

1. Economic Futures of the Asian Region and the Role of the Social Sciences;
2. National Perspectives in Social Science Development (including such matters as indigenisation, social science theory and the dissemination of research findings); and
3. The preparation of “National Profile Studies”, or textbooks for senior school children, outlining the basic features of national social structures, concepts and trends, to be translated into the major languages of the region. These studies are being financed by a contract with Unesco, with the Academy acting on behalf of AASSREC. For the preparation of five such studies, sub-contracts were completed with authors in Indonesia, Korea, Bangladesh, India and Thailand. The aim is to complete the manuscripts in 1984 and publish in 1985.

(c) IFSSO

Because of lack of funds and its involvement with the AASSREC Conference, the Academy was not able to send a representative to the Biennial Conference of the International Federation of Social Science Organizations held in Sri Lanka in November 1983.

6. JOINT ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

Two meetings of the Consultative Committee of the Australian Academies were held in October and April, with ASSA’s President as Chairman. Matters of common interest which were discussed included the funding of research, the funding of representation of national disciplinary bodies in international organizations (specifically Psychology with respect to the International Council of Scientific Unions), recognition of each of the four Academies as the National representative for the scholarly disciplines within their respective memberships, and joint symposium activities.

The Committee continued its project on The Protection of Prehistoric Places, particularly the study of the effects of tourism on selected sites (e.g., Kakadu Park) and dissemination of knowledge relating to the significance of Aboriginal rock art and its preservation through the production of the "popular" illustrated monograph.

A joint Committee was also set up to consider a new proposal relating to a national strategy to combat drought.

Another Joint Academy Committee continued to consider the organization of a Workshop, with possible longer-term activities, to examine the social and economic implications of technological change, particularly with regard to employment, the structure of the labour force, and the benefits and costs of rapid technological innovation.

Many of these matters are expected to be continuing agenda items through 1984-85.

7. TAX EXEMPTION STATUS

During the year a further approach was made to the Government requesting exemption from income tax for gifts to the Academies under Section 78(1)(a) of the Income Tax Assessment Act. Without this privilege the Academies are severely handicapped in efforts to raise funds for purposes other than research, for example for general administrative expenses, staff supplementation and accommodation costs.

The exemption now sought is for general purposes under the Income Tax Assessment Act and is separate from the exemption for gifts for research purposes to which the Academy is entitled under Section 73A(1) of the Act.

8. OFFICE ACCOMMODATION

The Academy moved into its new offices in the Garden Wing of University House in February 1983 with the address:

GPO Box 1956
CANBERRA ACT 2601

9. NEWSLETTER

In May 1982 the first issue of the Newsletter was published under the editorship of Professor Peter Sheehan of the University of Queensland. The current editor is Dr J.J. Smolicz of the University of Adelaide who assumed this responsibility in November 1982. It is planned to continue publishing two Newsletters annually.

Publications Arising from Sponsored Activities and Direct Subsidy

Until 1977 the Academy assisted a number of activities by contributing to the cost of seminars, providing travel grants for study in Asia, or by directly subsidising journals. Many publications arose from these activities and lists of such are printed in the Annual Report for 1976-77 and earlier under the headings Publications Arising from Sponsored Activities and Publications Subsidised by the Academy.

The policy of sponsorship and subsidy was discontinued in 1977.
FINANCE

The audited financial statements for the year ending 30 June 1984 are presented below.

(a) Main Account

There was, unfortunately, no increase in the Government Grant in 1983-84 for administrative expenses, with the grant remaining at the same level as 1982-83, ie $79,000. This meant that the Academy had to find ways of reducing these expenses. Fellows of the Academy contributed to this by combining other meetings when travelling on Academy business, thus sharing the costs of travel and accommodation, and the Academy appreciates the consideration shown in this way. Telephone conferences were also held where possible, and these too contributed to considerable financial savings. Thus administrative costs were held close to the Grant-in-Aid received from the Government in 1983-84.

(b) Research Project Account

The net cash balance in this Account stands at $36,648, of which approximately $12,500 is committed to projects being undertaken by the Academy.

(c) Liquid Fuels Project

This Project, for which the Academy received support from the National Research Development and Demonstration Council (NERDDC), has now been completed with the publication of a Report by Dr Roger Stuart entitled Liquid Fuels, Transport and Urban Structure: A Social Science Research Report, and all financial commitments have been met.

(d) AASSREC Account

The Fifth Biennial Conference of the Association of Asian Social Science Research Councils, for which outside funds were sought, was held in Sydney, December 4-10, 1983. The Conference was wholly supported by grants from the Australian Development Assistance Bureau, the Australian National Commission for Unesco, the Unesco Regional Participation Programme, Paris and the Unesco Division for the Development of Social Sciences, Paris, and the United Nations University. The Academy appreciates the assistance of these bodies. Funds in this account are committed to the publications arising from this Conference.
Revenues and expenditures were kept in reasonable balance in 1983-84, as they were in 1982-83. However, it is clear that the Academy must give consideration to several important matters, eg the establishing of a contingency fund to cover staff for long-service leave and other entitlements, the replacement of office equipment and other increasing administrative costs.

Should the Academy embark on Major Projects, it will be necessary for it to seek outside funds for such purposes.

The Academy continues to press for tax exemption for gifts to the Academy for general purposes as well as for research activities for which tax exemption is already granted. Consultations were held with the Prime Minister in 1984, but to date no response to these consultations has been received.

S.F. HARRIS, Hon. Treasurer

I have examined the books and accounts of The Academy of the Social Sciences in Australia (Main Account). I have obtained all the information and explanations I have required and am of the opinion that the above Balance Sheet and accompanying Statement of Revenue and Expenditure represent a true and fair view of the financial affairs of The Academy of the Social Sciences in Australia (Main Account) as at 30 June 1984.

Auditor's Statement

I have examined the books and accounts of the Academies' Australia-China Exchange in the Humanities and Social Sciences. I have received all the information and explanations I have required, and am of the opinion that the above Statement of Receipts and Payments, together with the accompanying Statement of Current Liabilities, represent a true and fair view of the financial affairs of the Academies' Australia-China Exchange in the Humanities and Social Sciences as at 30 June 1984.

L.A. BELLINGHAM BCom, FASA Hon. Auditor

The Rules of the Academy state that ‘persons who are deemed to have achieved distinction in one or more branches of the social sciences may be elected as Fellows of the Academy if (i) they are nominated by one Fellow and seconded by two other Fellows; (ii) they are recommended by the Membership Committee after investigation of their eligibility; and (iii) they receive the support of a majority of the Fellows for the time being at a postal ballot’.

Five new Fellows were elected in 1983. They were: Dr G.W. Jones (Demography), Australian National University; Professor P.D. Groenewegen (Economics), University of Sydney; Professor G.M. Dening (History), University of Melbourne; Professor G.S. Reid (Politics), University of Western Australia; and Professor G. Singer (Psychology), La Trobe University.

In June 1984 there were 193 Fellows, including Honorary Fellows and Overseas Fellows. The Annual General Meeting decided that up to ten names should be submitted to the postal ballot for election to Fellowship in 1984. A list of Fellows as at 30 June 1984 is given in pages 29-51 of this Report.

The deaths of three Fellows were recorded during the year. Emeritus Professor H. Burton, who was appointed Secretary of the SSRC in 1966 and Executive Director and Secretary of the newly formed Academy in 1972, died in July 1983. Emeritus Professor A.K. Stout died in July 1983 and Emeritus Professor L.C.F. Turner died in January 1984. Memoirs of Professors Burton and Stout appeared in the February 1984 issue of the Academy Newsletter and a memoir of Professor Turner will appear in the August issue.
